RYAN HICKS GETS SERIOUS

Songwriter tackles dark subject matter on Pulsing Colours, but balances it with hope

JEFF HARRISON

When it comes to songwriting, Ryan Hicks is all about the concept. The 35-year-old Regina, Saskatchewan, songwriter released his first full-length album, Pulsing Colours, in 2016 with the idea of a concept album that explores his experiences in Saskatchewan and California. The album, which is a collection of songs, is a collection of songs that explore his experiences in Saskatchewan and California. Regina-based singer/songwriter Ryan Hicks is set to release his 2nd full-length album February 9th. Video for the first single and title track "Pulsing Colours" is premiering exclusively on Live in Limbo.

Ryan Hicks makes melodic, cinematic alt-pop music which he describes as "If Paul McCartney, Brian Wilson and the Fleet Foxes made music for a David Lynch film". Since the release of his critically acclaimed debut album Prairie Ocean in 2014, Ryan has been hard at work on his sophomore release Pulsing Colours. The album is a concept record of all of the thoughts, moods and emotions that can come to us at night.
